

How Lessons Work

Whether you study with me at Shepherd Music School or privately, I use the semester system.

There are 18 half-hour lessons given in each of the fall and spring semesters. Beginners take 30-minute lessons, and longer lessons are suggested for more advanced students.

Lessons are generally offered from late afternoon to early evening most weekdays, but could be offered on weekends in special circumstances.

You can optionally choose to study over the summer as well.

Students are accepted at any time, providing I still have openings. Fees are adjusted accordingly.

My Teaching Approach

I can teach any level of student, and have successfully taught students as young as five, given parental support and readiness to learn.

I teach using methods that guide students to read the extended staff, not using the traditional middle C, fixed-hand positions. I also teach technique and theory from the very beginning.

What Is the Cost?

Rates at Shepherd Music School and my private rates are competitive with other schools and private studios, and can be requested upon serious interest.

Lessons can be paid in advance for a full semester at a small discount or in monthly installments.
